WAR TO DEATH.

Montana and Wyoming Horse-thieves to Be Exterminated.

One Thousand Head of Stolen Stock in Their Possession.

RANCHMEN AND OFFICERS IN PURSUIT OF THE MARAUDERS.

A Member of the Band Found Riddled With Bullets—Finkerton Detectives Employed in the Chase—Bad Career of a North Carolina Desperado—An Unprovoked Murder—An Old Man Shot—Criminal News.

HELENA, Mont., April 8.—The first results of the war looking to the extermination of horse-thieves in Eastern Montana and Wyoming came to light yesterday, when the body of a man was found on Alkali Creek, about ten miles from Billings. He had been shot through the head and had been dead several days. The man has not been identified, but is supposed to be a Wyoming "rustler" en route to Canada. Two other men, suspected of being in communication with horse-thieves, have mysteriously disappeared within the past few days.

Two parties are now after the rustlers, who are located at the Jackson Hole in Wyoming, with a thousand stolen horses in their possession. A party of fifteen, all frontier and mountain men, under the leadership of Sam Roberts, left Big Timber, in Eastern Montana, for Jackson Hole a few days ago. Another party expects to reach the north end of the basin under the leadership of the Chapman brothers, who commenced operations in Bon Homme County, and were driven from their camp to Northwestern Nebraska, where they resumed operations. The two parties will be largely reinforced on its way to the Hole, and as soon as is determined to rid the country of rustlers, some interesting reports may soon be expected.

THE CULBERTSON GANG.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 8.—Correspondence from the lawmen on the trail of the exploits of a band of horse and cattle thieves known as the "Culbertson gang," who commenced operations in Bon Homme County, and were driven from their camp to Northwestern Nebraska, where they resumed operations.

Living in that section, and a vigilance committee hunted down and dislodged the gang, killing several and driving the survivors out of the country. Two Culbertson brothers escaped and afterward went to the Black Hills, where they were captured, and were arrested for the brutal killing of a friendly Indian named Few Tails during the closing days of the Indian disturbance at Pine Ridge, fifteen months ago. Although they practically admitted the killing, they were liberated on the ground that it was an act of war, and at the same time that the killing was an act of war.

"Old man" Hoyt, one of the band who was not fully identified with the running off of cattle and horses, but who was known to have escaped, was permitted to escape, and the two brothers were arrested, until they were arrested for the brutal killing of a friendly Indian named Few Tails during the closing days of the Indian disturbance at Pine Ridge, fifteen months ago. Although they practically admitted the killing, they were liberated on the ground that it was an act of war, and at the same time that the killing was an act of war.

FRANKLIN, Ky., April 8.—A case of grave robbery that has created great excitement in the neighborhood is reported from Fairview, a village east of this city. Edward Hoy, a youth who died ten years ago, was buried in a country graveyard near there. It was discovered by persons passing through the pine trees that the grave had been violated and the grave and stolen the body. Just what night the theft was committed is not known. The police are on the track of the guilty parties.

UNPROVOKED MURDER.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Luke Shanks was shot and instantly killed last night by William Kuehne. The shooting occurred in Shanks' own home, and the murderer was not identified. He was arrested for the brutal killing of a friend in Indianapolis named Few Tails during the closing days of the Indian disturbance at Pine Ridge, fifteen months ago.

Although they practically admitted the killing, they were liberated on the ground that it was an act of war, and at the same time that the killing was an act of war.

TOLEDO, O., April 8.—Samuel Clarke, aged 60, was fatally shot last night by George Leithart. A law suit between the gentlemen, both of whom stand high in the community, is popularly supposed to be the cause. Clarke was in his office when Leithart drove up and discharged his revolver at him. The bullet hit his old "stampeding grounds" in the bluffs west of Runningwater, in Bon Homme County. He reached there the other day after an absence of nearly fifteen years, and again lived in that section. The dwelling is a log house. The dwelling is on the east side of the Missouri River, directly opposite the town of Nobara, Neb., and is located on the mouth of the river, about three miles from Missouri to a distance of two or three miles. This ravine was a veritable horse-thieves' paradise and the desperadoes' headquarters, and the old one, who has come back to the old home of the desperadoes to die.

CRIMINALS COMING.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 8.—Intense excitement exists here and throughout the surrounding country over the arrival of a desperado from Cheyenne yesterday of forty-five years of age, who was joined to Cheyenne by about fifteen stockmen. The party are armed to the teeth and left on a rapid trail to the mountains. The party, who are known as the "Hustlers" who are said to be stealing stock. It is claimed that the "Plinker" and "Finkerton" gang, who left here yesterday in search of rustlers, say that the latter and the Finkertons came together near Curtis Mills' ranch, and that the case is on the trail of Big Horn Mountain, and that the two boys were ordered to surrender, and on refusing, were fired upon by the desperadoes. The two boys were captured after a chase of two hours, when the rustlers galloped away to the mountains, but were not pursued by the Finkertons, as they were waiting for reinforcements. The two boys, who are now quite old, and have come back to the old home of the desperadoes to die.

BILL MURPHY.

A NORTH CAROLINA DESPERADO AND HIS RED CAREER.

MURPH, N. C., April 8.—Up in the recesses of the Jellico Mountain region a desperado named Bill Murphy is terrorizing the people of that sparsely settled district. He recently killed his brother George for marrying into a family against whom Bill had a grudge. The cause of the dead brother was expressed by his brother-in-law, a man named Martin. One of the most wicked slugs in the country, he was found dead from ambush. Shortly after this Bill Murphy went to the house of a man named Bright, and made himself at home. The man, on hesitating about taking the desperado in the latter brought his Winchester into play, shooting Bright in the right shoulder, and the bullet passed through his heart, and then fled, leaving the establishment to the wretched, who seemed determined to take all in sight.

Bill Murphy started out on the warpath again. He heard that Ben Martin had been criticizing his recent conduct. Armed with his Winchester, he started out in pursuit of Martin, and came upon him at work in his field.

"Get ready for your grave," said the desperado, and with a curse, "I'll lay you down on your knees and acknowledge that you have been lying on me."

In vain did Martin expostulate. A few reports and a bullet sent through his heart finished his course. Murphy decided to pursue whom he met on the road, that he is indeed a bold and fierce fighter, and that he is not to be trifled with.

The Talcott Mountain region is twenty miles from the town of Murphy, cut off from all influences of civilization, in a poor, desolate, and isolated country. The world, the little neighborhood of a dozen families is completely isolated. The Murphys have for fifty years held sway there. Bill's last words were to the chief of the police, "The war was seized by those whose friends he had slain and was hanged to a hickory tree near the old cemetery. Bill is said to be half Indian."

SLAIN BY ROBBERS.

A FARMER, HIS WIFE AND THREE CHILDREN MURDERED.

MONTENEGRO, Uruguay, April 8.—Near Guadalupe, Uruguay, an Italian named Traversi, his wife and three children, the eldest a girl 22 years of age, were found murdered in their home to-day. The dead bodies showed numerous dagger wounds. Traversi recently realized $1,000 from the sale of his crops and the money was known to be in the house. The murderers carried off the $1,000. Their identity is unknown, but it is believed that they were acquaintances of the victim.

ARRESTED FOR ABDUCTION.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF A GIRL IN A WILLIAM'S HANDS.

FORT CARSON, Ga., April 8.—Archie Bigbie, who a few weeks ago abducted Miss Anna Brooks from her home in Gwinnett County under promise of marriage and carried her into the swamps of the Chattahoochee River, where she was brutally treated, was arrested here yesterday as he stepped off a steamboat. He and the young lady planned an elopement and left the home of the parents, the father of the girl was in the clutches of a villainous scoundrel, who had deliberately planned their ruin. Bigbie, who was not out, lived with three disreputable company men, and was engaged on the banks of the Chattahoochee, the quartette purloining the trash stock of farmers for their own use. The girl learned of her daughter's whereabouts, and sent a party to bring her back to her home. After treating with her captors, the girl, with the help of her mother, obtained her release, and was returned to her parents, the parents having filed a suit for her abduction at the hardships she had undergone. Bigbie is now in jail, and fears of lynching are entertained.

A FATAL QUARREL.

ONE MAN A CORPSE AND ANOTHER A PRIS-ONER.

POPULAR DEMPY, Mo., April 8.—A very distressing affair occurred here at an early hour this morning. Charles, the oldest son of Judge John G. Wear, became involved in a quarrel with Ed Lael, a young man working for the Iron Mountain Co. as caller. Wear drew a revolver and shot at Lael in the temple, from which he died at 7 o'clock. Wear gave himself up and is in jail. He is an ex-railroad man farming near here. Both are young married men, under the same roof a gloom over the entire town, on account of the family of Charles. Wilfred Laurier, leader of the opposition, with being annexationists.

Wilfred Laurier, in reply, said George Foster thought that Canada was growing, and that nations grow as men grow. Canada should not remain a colony forever. He did not speak of the original Pacific Islanders and Indians, but of the Chinese, who are the descendants of the leaders, the rank and file exhibited commendable patience. Gen. Collins was warmly applauded upon entering the hall.

TO CHECK EMIGRATION.

VIENNA, April 8.—The Austrian authorities propose that a bill be passed in the Reichstag providing stringent regulations to check the emigration fever among young men, large numbers of whom are eluding military service and making their way to America.

BRITISH CROWN.

The Chinese authorities on the Burmese frontier have warned the natives not to assist or harbor Burmese tribesmen plotting to attack the British.

QUEEN VICTORIA WILL VISIT LONDON.

BEAULIEU, France, who was hanged to a stake in the law courts in Vienna a short time ago, has obtained a special diploma of merit.

DONATION NOTES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Senator Hale, in an interview yesterday regarding the stories which have been assiduously circulated the past week with reference to Mr. Blaine's supposed willingness to accept the nomination of the party for the Presidency, said: "I do not speak for him, but I know he stands to-day exactly as he did when he wrote his letter of withdrawal. He has not reconsidered his determination and he has given no intimation of an intention to withdraw."

SPLIT IN LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 8.—Rumors have been current for several days and generally believed that the McEnery people, the lottery and the Leonard wing of the Republican party have formed a combination to elect Leonard, his wing to deliver the Republican delegation for Harrison at the Minneapolis Convention, and the lottery to provide $50,000 for the State campaign, and a handsome sum to be carried over to the Harrison campaign.

The rumor is confirmed by the admission of a prominent lottery stockholder in the organization of the party.

CANDIDATE TO ALLEGED DISCRIMINA-TION IN PRIVILEGES.

OTTAWA, Ontario, April 8.—The supplementary papers regarding the negotiations respecting the fisheries on the Atlantic coast, now in progress between Newfoundland and the United States, transmitted to the House of Commons last night, confirm the rumor that there were negotiations under progress between the ancient colony and the American government of which the Canadian public is now aware. The negotiations have been suspended, and the parties are agreed to meet again at a date to be fixed.

THE COMMITTEE ON CREDIBLES.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES.

CANADA OBJECTS TO ALLEGED DISCRIMINA-TION IN PRIVILEGES.

OTTAWA, April 8.—The supplementary papers regarding the negotiations respecting the fisheries on the Atlantic coast, now in progress between Newfoundland and the United States, transmitted to the House of Commons last night, confirm the rumor that there were negotiations under progress between the ancient colony and the American government of which the Canadian public is now aware. The negotiations have been suspended, and the parties are agreed to meet again at a date to be fixed.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 8.—The Evening Sentinel, the leading Democratic paper in Northern Indiana, will, to-day announce, upon the authority of a close political friend of Hon. Claude Matthews, the present Secretary of State, that the latter gentleman will positively be a candidate for Governor by the Democratic-Democratic convention to be held on April 15. The paper states that the name of the ward bosses admit McEnery is being run simply to defeat a Harrison candidate. The paper also states that the Harrison campaign is aimed at the same time to defeat the McEnery campaign.

THE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Samuel Clarke, aged 60, was fatally shot last night by George Leithart. A law suit between the gentlemen, both of whom stand high in the community, is popularly supposed to be the cause. Clarke was in his office when Leithart drove up and discharged his revolver at him. UNPROVOKED MURDER.

BORN TO KILL.

The Extraordinary Plea to Be Offered in Deeming's Defense.

Ruled by an Irresistible Mania for Homicide from His Birth

WHICH SPRANG FROM A PRE-NATAL IMPRESSION ON HIS MOTHER.

The Belief Increases That He Is the Long-Sought Jack the Ripper, the Whitechapel Monster—No Denial That He Committed All the Crimes Imputed to Him—The Fiend Shows Signs of Breaking Down.

London, April 8.—Advices from Melbourne to-day throw a new light on the strange crimes committed by Deeming. His defense is to that of an extraordinary character. It will in substance be that owing to a pre-natal impression on his mother, who happened to be frightened by the butchery of an animal, he was born with an irresistible mania for homicide, which he gratified at every opportunity, and with unnatural cunning. No attempt will be made to deny that he is Jack the Ripper, and that he committed several, if not all the crimes laid to the charge of that mysterious assassin. The Government will be asked to pay the expenses of Deeming's witness from England, as his relations are very poor. Deeming appears to be breaking down.

LOSING HIS NERVE.

DEEMING SHOWS SIGNS OF BREAKING DOWN.

TRIAL SCENES.

MELBOURNE, April 8.—It is believed that the trial of Deeming, with a view to the most interesting that has ever taken place anywhere in the world. As stated in these dispatches the defense will be insanity, and many experts will be called to testify as to the species of madness with which his counsel claims that he is afflicted. No denial has as yet been made by the defense that Deeming did not commit all the murders attributed to him. In fact his counsel by his tact admissions at the Coroner's inquest shows that he believes that his client is at least guilty of the killing with which he is charged, but claims that owing to congenital influences he is not responsible for his homicidal mania. Of course there are scoffers at his line of defense. They claim that in all the murders attributed to Deeming, except perhaps the Whitechapel slayings, there has been altogether too much method in his madness.

It is thought that Deeming's counsel would be only too glad to have him positively identified as the Whitechapel monster. It would then be a much easier matter to prove that he was not guilty of the killing for all the murders, committed apparently without the slightest reason, showing the brutal ferocity of a maniac. No alienist has made a study of the case, but it is thought by many that when it is done it will be found that pre-natal influences had much to do with it, if not everything to do with the crime.

This inference is drawn from the remark of Deeming's counsel, who, during the hearing, said to the Coroner:

"This abominable offspring of a mother's womb is a defective being, and can open a question as to the male English-speaking race must face, and which has already been dealt with by some European countries. In the meantime my first duty is to secure him a fair trial."

MAY BREAK DOWN.

But of all the scenes of the trial, Deeming knows nothing. He slept well last night, but the intense nervous and mental strain to which he is subjected is telling upon him. He can at times assume an air of carelessness and jocularity, but his face is losing its ruddy color, and this morning he was decidedly pale and fatigued, despite his efforts to the inquiry and afterward, the man appears to be breaking down. He frequently asks for stimulants.

The closing scene in the Coroner's investigation which ended yesterday was a most unusual one. The jury, after a long and patient hearing, found that the evidence against the prisoner was entirely conclusive and clearly pointed to his guilt of the terrible charges which were made against him. Not a link in the chain of evidence was missing, and the clearest proof that the murder was premeditated was the appearance, unusual and peculiar mode adopted by the prisoner in burying the body of his unfortunate victims.

The jury was out half an hour, and during that time a definite silence reigned. Deeming, with the lawyers, officers and others about him. He seemed to be in a very cheerful frame of mind and did not, in the least, appear to be under any particular portion of which he was placed. After a while, apparently becoming somewhat weary over the delay of the jury, he turned to Mr. Lytle and said: "I am a simpleton, and I am called out to one of the witnesses, 'What a naughty girl.' He appeared to grow more rather than less perturbed, and, after deliberations, spoke to one of the court officials in regard to the length of time it took them to arrive at a conclusion, and in a jocular manner said, 'I will go and assist the jury with their verdict.'"

Deeming seemed to be considerably relieved when the jurymen at length appeared, and he settled himself in a comfortable position to watch and listen. The grave look of the faces of the jury did not, however, impress the prisoner, and even when the foreman of the jury, in response to the questions of a court attorney, announced that Deeming had been found guilty of capital murder, he did not falter. On the contrary, he still maintained his usual demeanor, and, with a smile, the air of bravado which he had assumed throughout the proceedings was more pronounced than ever. This was made evident by a remark which he made when the jury were about to be made known. Turning to one of the persons standing near him the prisoner, in audible tones, inquired concerning the verdict, saying, "I could have done it in ten minutes what has taken them so long to decide."

The Coroner intimated that Deeming would be on trial for the murder of his wife on April 12, and added: "I shall now issue a warrant."

The prisoner, in an insolent tone repeated, "I will put it in your pipe and smoke it."

It is understood that efforts will be made to procure a prolonged adjournment of his trial in order to enable him to come from England to meet the trial of the prisoner in his mind when he was a boy.

A Knotty Question.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—Attached to the bill of exception in the De Steurs divorce case, in which a motion for new trial will be heard next Monday at Sioux City, is the new point, the jurisdiction of Judge Aiken's court being questioned, upon the theory that at the time of the suit the Baron, the defendant, was Minister Plenipotentiary of the Netherlands at Paris, and that the court of the regular session of the United States does not that the Supreme Court has exclusive jurisdiction of suits or proceedings against ambassadors or other public ministers.

Portraits of Gen. Marmaduke.

Two life-sized bust portraits of the late Gen. Marmaduke have just been finished by Will J. Lowry, the artist, in his studio in the Meridional Building.

One of the portraits, that of the General in Confederate uniform, will be given to the Ex-Confederate Home at Higginsville, Mo. The portrait is painted from a photograph taken just after the war, and shows the General in full bloom of manhood.

The other portrait is of Gen. Marmaduke twenty-five years later in civilian costume. This will go to the Marmaduke Academy at Sweet Springs, Mo. Both the portraits are striking likenesses, and will be on exhibition at the studio for some days to come.

BLIZZARD. Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Generally fair in Northwest Missouri, cloudy and occasional light rains in Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois to-day and Saturday; colder to-night; temperatures will fail to freeze in Northern Missouri to-night; extremely high temperature Saturday; conditions favorable for severe frosts Saturday night.

For St. Louis and vicinity:

The area of low pressure which was noticed yesterday in the Lower Mississippi Valley has moved rapidly northward until it is now off the New England coast, while another slight depression is now noticeable in Texas. An extremely high pressure is now over the country, and the temperature Saturday night will be favorable for severe frosts Saturday night.

The turning down of NOONAN is an excellent turn for the Democracy of this city.

YOUNG BORROWS has gone back to Europe. There is more "society" of his kind over there.

SCORE one for Democracy in the fight against plutocratic legislation. The wool tariff bill has passed the House.

BETTER, primaries directed by a recorder according to the law than those directed by party committeemen according to their own sweet wills.

ZACHRITZ shows signs of repentance, but would his conversion be worth anything in another Grand-jury investigation of "the matter of drapery licenses?"

DEMMING claims that he is a "moral monstrosity." His resemblance to one is certainly very strong, but would a real moral monstrosity be capable of recognizing himself as one?

TO HAVE carried Rhode Island this year would have been a big victory for the Democrats, but it is a small one for the Republicans. That is about the size of the Rhode Island situation.

THE SUNDAY Post-DISPATCH accepts advertising on a distinct and unequivocal guarantee that its circulation in the City of St. Louis and suburbs is more than double that of the "Republican" and larger than any other Sunday newspaper.

THE anarchist plots in Spain indicate a widespread preparation for May day among the misguided advocates of free government. They do not seem to understand that a dynamite explosion is an argument in favor of despotism.

THE difference between the closure rule of the present House and that of the late House is that under the latter one man could enforce it and under the former the enforcement requires the assent of a majority of the members. This is merely the difference between one-man despotism and popular free government. Comparisons of the two rules are odious to ex-Speaker REED and his late heirs.

THE old newspaper men of St. Louis and thousands of citizens who knew him well and esteemed him highly will read with sorrow the announcement of the death of WILLIAM H. McHENRY, who, in connection with PETER L. FOY, Esq., owned and conducted the old Dispatch from 1865 to 1872. That was but part of a long and honorable connection with St. Louis journalism, from which he withdrew on account of ailments from which he never recovered sufficiently to resume his labors.

James Willett of Benton Identified as Charley Ross.

The Boy's Father, However, Is Still Doubtful.

ME SPARKS OF BLODGETT TELLS HOW THE DISCOVERY WAS MADE.

The Boy Was Brought to Benton Just After Charley Ross Disappeared by a Man Who Then Fled and Escaped.

When Afterwards Arrested—The Child Said He Had Been Kidnapped—Reasonable Expectation of a Genuine Solution of the Mystery at Last.

BLODGETT, Mo., April 8.—Further investigation into the story of the young farm hand employed by Mr. William Sparks of Benton tends to confirm the belief that he is Charley Ross.

The Benton where Mr. Sparks lives with the young man who has now become an object of national curiosity, is not the St. Louis suburb of that name, but a little town in Scott County a few miles from there. Mr. Sparks is a well-to-do citizen of that place, and his word is absolutely relied on by his neighbors. He and the young man who have known the boy from January to the present have been in touch with him, and are now well content with each other to push to a termination an investigation which both have always feared would result in their separation, and so, for years, they have gone along in their quiet life, believing that they knew the solution of one of the greatest criminal mysteries that has ever baffled the detectives of this country, yet making no active effort to bring their information to the notice of those able to decide at once whether they were right or not. Mr. Sparks has educated the boy with some care, however, believing that some day his son would take him out of the country, and into the world, and the young man has eagerly absorbed all the learning he could get from the schools to which he has been exposed. Generally, mathematics is the stumbling block of boys.

LINE OF CHRISTIAN BOYS.

This young man, on the contrary, from the first day he saw a blackboard gave evidence of an astonishing fondness for calculation and a facility especially in mental mathematics that made his teachers wonder. It will be remembered that Christian K. Ross, the son of Charley, is a noted mathematician. His favorite game is chess. Mr. Sparks believes that the young man on his farm inherits the mathematical talent.

These facts come to the Post-DISPATCH correspondent from people who live in the home of Mr. Sparks and the young man thought to be Charley Ross. The boy is the son of Mr. Sparks' wife, Mrs. Evans, since the boy appeared at Benton the citizens of Bloodgett have felt a direct interest in the matter but no determined attempt to get the Ross family in Philadelphia to examine the evidence that the little wif was Charley has been made a few weeks ago. To-day a correspondent of the Post-DISPATCH, who is a friend of Mr. Sparks and two of his intimate friends, V. O. Sofford and S. B. Allison, the history of the boy, which they sent to Philadelphia for the purpose of interesting the Ross relatives there in the case. These three gentlemen are convinced that young Willett is Charley Ross, but they have moved very carefully in collecting these facts, reluctantly to make mistakes!

MR. SPARKS' STORY.

"In October, 1874," Mr. Sparks said, and the other two gentlemen verified the date, "I and my wife went to St. Louis to get my money, brought to Benton a boy we seemed between 3 and 5 years old. He gave the boy to William's family to take care of, promising to get work about there and pay the child's board. To explain his appearance he said that his wife had had a son, and the boy had been born when she had lived, and he got to hate it, so he made up his mind to go into the country and bring the boy up there. Beyond this statement, which he made to the women of the family, he was taciturn, and he would not even tell the name of the boy when he was 13 years of age went to work immediately on the Missouri River in the capacity of commercial reporter. ## SPORTING SPREAD.

Something of the Winners of the Two Arkansas Derbies.

PESCADOR, WINNER OF TUESDAY'S RACE, ENTERED AT ST. LOUIS.

He Is a California Colt With a Good Record—Little Billy Said to Be the Best Colt in the South—Race Ball, Fugilism and Other Sporting News of General Interest.

Little Billy, who won at the repetition of the Arkansas Derby, at Little Rock yesterday, is regarded by many as the best 2-year-old in the country. He is the property of J. M. Brown, the Texas turfman, who also owns the great sprinter Beachy. Yesterday's race was run under the same conditions and with the same horses as the Derby proper, run there on Tuesday, when Pescador won. On that day, through a mistake, Tom Elliott and Critic were left at the post, and Elliott's jockey had the jockey on Little Billy, the colt's stable companion, pull up in the stretch. Little Billy finished in a gallop in second place, but ran with the condition that he was then allowed to run yesterday, when the order was reversed. Little Billy winning and Pescador finishing second. Little Billy must be a good one to defeat Pescador, for the latter, although little known in this section of the country, is an excellent race horse. The colt is the best, but probably not been seen at the St. Louis meeting, not being entered in any of the stakes here. Pescador, who won the Arkansas Derby proper on Tuesday and finished second in the race run yesterday, was not at the race meeting, being entered in the stakes here for 2-year-olds and for 3-year-olds and upwards, except for the Merchants and Manufacturers' Stake, a selling event. Pescador is a California horse, being the property of D. R. Dickey of that State, and he has proved himself a good colt though not a wonder. He is by Gano out of Soda Howard, and in color is a bay. As a 2-year-old he started in twenty-one races, of which he won eleven, was second five times, third twice and was three times unplaced. His record appears as follows in Fresh, Cal., on March 21, 1891, when carrying 113 pounds, he ran third to Herald in a five-furlong dash in 1:02. April 16 he ran unplaced to Yo Tamblen in a five-furlong dash in San Francisco in 1:02, carrying 110 pounds. April 20 in the same place, carrying 110 pounds, he won a handicap in 1:02, beating the same distance in 1:02, beating Topgallant, Limita and three others. At Oakland, Cal., April 16, he won a dash at the same distance, beating Folly and two others in 1:02. April 20, he ran second to Limita, and at the same place, he won a race of six furlongs in 1:08, beating Tally, Annie Lewis, and Borealis. At San Jose, April 4, he ran second to King Solomon, beaten by Lewis and Brown Idie behind him. In the same place April 8 he won a dash of five furlongs in 1:04. At Santa Anna, Cal., April 12, he won a dash in a five-furlong dash in 1:02. At the same place, Oct. 2, he beats Santa Fe, C. P. and Borealis in a seven-furlong dash in 1:08. At Stockton, Cal., Oct. 22, he beat Captain G. C. and Santa Fe in a five-furlong dash in 1:02. At Santa Anna, Cal., Oct. 22, he beat Captain G. C. and Santa Fe in a five-furlong dash in 1:02. At the same place, Oct. 24, he won a dash of six furlongs in 1:02, beating Santa Fe and Captain G. C. At the same place, Oct. 24, he won a dash of six furlongs in 1:02, beating Romar and Borealis. At San Jose, April 20, he ran unplaced to Motto, in a five-furlong dash in 1:08. In this race he carried 110 pounds. On the 20th he ran unplaced, when he ran second to Zalivier, in a dash of seven furlongs, carrying 110 pounds, Finley finishing behind him. This race was run in 1:02. At the same place, Oct. 24, he won a dash of six furlongs in 1:02, beating Romar, Esperanza, and two others. At Sacramento, April 20, he won a five-furlong dash in 1:08, beating Stella and Borealis. This record bears a striking resemblance to that made by the 2-year-old in 1891, when it is just possible that his win on Tuesday was not such a "fluke" as it looked.

ST. LOUIS JOCKEY CLUB. Johnny Weber had the call in the saddle at the course across the river yesterday. The clever jockey was in great form and piloted four horses to victory. Irene H., the favorite at 4 to 5, was defeated in the handicap by Spectator, the second choice in the betting. Mamie S., an equal first choice with St. Paul in the opening event, defeated the latter by Violent Exercise.

Fat is a vulgar word. Too much adipose or obesity sounds better. But fat is plainer. You cannot reduce it by violent exercise. There are two kinds of fat.

The unhealthy adipose tissue, resulting from sedentary habits or from the taking of the appetite through stimulants; or from impure blood, or it may be hereditary. This is the kind that lays the possessor liable to heart disease, apoplexy, vertigo, etc.

Then there is the genuine, healthy, life-giving tissue, the result from regular and moderate habits, or if irregular habits, the taking regularly and according to directions, the famous Carlsbad Sprudel Salt. The Salt will reduce unhealthy tissue and build in its place that firm and solid flesh which is the certain sign of perfect health. It is virtually taking the Carlsbad treatment in your home. Every drug store has it. The genuine has the signature of "Eisner &amp; Mendelson Co., Sole Agents, New York," on the bottle.

THE CANADIAN DASH.

HAMILTON, O. April 8.—Yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock Jack Doherty of Philadelphia and Jack Bennett of Canada met at Brownsville, Ind., and in the presence of three hundred or four hundred admirers from this city. The fight finally came up in twenty seconds. Doherty went down in that round and was unable to respond at the expiration of the allotted ten seconds.

CHESS.

LAWRENCE, April 7.—The twentieth annual chess match between Oxford and Cambridge was contested to-day on seven boards, at the British Chess Clubs, King street, Covent Garden, and resulted in a victory for the "Cantahs" by 6½ to 1½ games.

A Plea of Insanity.

Came to the attention of the court of one of the people who constantly inflict injury upon themselves, and lay the foundation for serious and disastrous bodily trouble by the use, in season and out of season, upon slight necessity and with-out discrimination, of drastic vegetable cathartics and poisonous mineral cholagogues—notably various forms of mercury—to relieve simply constipated bowels or to expel any article of the persistent use of Hostetter's, which has been a curse. This famous remedy never cures, evacuates too completely or weakens the bowels. If taken in large doses it will bring about a fit of the puerperium of which this can truthfully be said, we are unaware of any. After the use of this article of nostrum, the bowels are constipated, and the system becomes weak, and it will not be long before the patient will be compelled to take it again, and so on ad infinitum. This is the reason why it is a strong balsam, a good base runner, and plays with much judgment. Taken in a small dose, he is one of the most valuable players in the big League remaining to hold their own in the big League remains to hold their own in the big League remains to hold their own in the big League. Kuehne was formerly with Pittsburgh and Columbus and at both places was a strong bather, and while not a Jack Boyle or Morgan Miller, he was a good player. The pitching department is another point that needs strengthening. The club has not got a pitcher who can be called a first-class player. Taylor, who will guard first base, is one of the coming first-basemen of the big League, and can be depended upon. That is in it, he is a strong basman, a good base runner, and plays with much judgment. Taken in a small dose, he is one of the most valuable players in the big League remaining to hold their own in the big League remains to hold their own in the big League remains to hold their own in the big League.

Indifference.

The indifference and willingness on the part of consumers to purchase adulterated articles because they are offered at a lower price, has become so general that many grocers find it difficult to handle pure products. If customers will understand that the cheap are always the adulterated, and will pay the fair cost of a genuine article, they will lend the only helping hand that will secure a radical reformation. It is a fact that there is no class of articles used in the preparation of food that is so commonly and systematically debased as flavoring extracts. The manufacturers of Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts invoke the cooperation of consumers to stay the tide of evil now sweeping over the market.

Superfluous Hair Destroyer.

After the study of many remedies I have at last succeeded in making a harmless article which in a few seconds and without pain will free the face, arms and neck of superfluous hair, by applying an inhalation of the two articles, which will cause the hair to disappear. Many testimonials at hand of its superlative qualities are given in the following.

Also, a special article is made for the breast, which also sets right weakened stomachs and digestions, loss of appetite, malaise, debility and kidney complaints are trouble all conquerable by the bitters.

This is the only article of its kind in the world.
